Guidelines for Virtual

- Due to our virtual environment, proctors are not required for objective testing; however, each student will be asked to complete the Honor Code document.
- Objective tests must be completed within the testing time limit specified in the national guidelines and no notes, books, references, or study materials may be used during the test.
- Due to our virtual environment, proctors are not required for objective testing; however, each student will be asked to complete the Honor Code document.
- Interview questions will be posted to the Competition Portal for participants.
- Interview participants should review the questions and record their video within the provided timeframe referenced above. Participants should only film their video once to simulate the impromptu format of the events. After the video recording is complete, participants will upload their video to the competition portal.
